Muppet Magic

Excitement filled McAuley's halls on Sept. 17, as Seniors and Freshmen prepared for the annual Big-Lil Sis picnic.

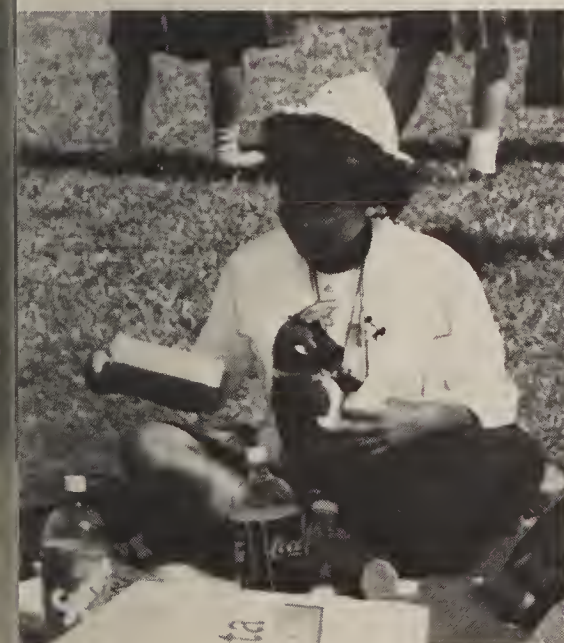

Keeping to tradition, Seniors presented a skit to the Freshmen. Thirty-five Seniors put together their version of the events that have taken place at their four years at McAuley. Freshmen were portrayed as tripping over their books and looking for McAuley's "swimming pool" as Sophomores were found at their hangout, Showbiz, every Friday night. Juniors showed off their rings and their class sweaters while Seniors looked forward to graduation and Daytona! The skit was narrated by Kermit and Baby Kermit to bring together the theme of Muppet Babies.

The picnic took place on McAuley's back field. Festivity was in the air as Seniors gave their little sisters stuffed animals and goodies dealing with Muppets. Pizza was delivered as expected every year.

As the excitement came to an end, Seniors and Freshmen packed up their picnic and hurried back to class. As Kathy Sand commented, "Getting to know my little sister, I think I've found a special friend."

You're One Of A Kind

The annual Sophomore Father Daughter Dance took place on Friday, September 19. It was one of the many hot nights in September, but that didn't deter the girls and their dads from dancing the night away from 8:00 to 12:00 P.M.

Sophomores selected "Dad, You're One of a Kind" as their theme for the evening. The cafeteria was softly lit by candles placed on the silver striped tables. Sophomore class moderators, Miss Clark and Mrs. Budde, made certain the dance went well, themselves enjoying the dance.

Continental Rhythm played a variety of music to please both fathers and daughters. Songs ranged from oldies, "Twist and Shout", to modern, "Venus." Another tradition that took place was the crowning of queen and king, which was accepted by Marcy DeNoma and her father.

Cindy Maccarone, Sophomore class president, added, "Our first project went well for being so early in the year. Even though we didn't have a long time to plan, we had a lot of fun."

Discovery Of Self Through Journey

Seniors, feeling the pressures of school and colleges, greatly anticipated a two day rest on the retreats. Freed from their books and papers, two hundred and twenty seniors relaxed at either the Bergamo Retreat Center or the Jesuit Retreat Center.

Seniors had a choice of three dates for retreats, ranging from September 22 to November 24. Mrs. Hils and Father Willig were responsible for planning the successful retreat that most of senior class attended.

The girls participated in many activities, including small group sharing, recreation, prayer, and reflection times. The theme of the retreat, Journey, invited seniors to discover themselves and God through new experiences.

After one senior returned, she commented, "The experience of the retreat made me want to go home, hug my parents, and tell them how much I love them."

Growing In Love . . .

Autumn decorations contrasted to a sultry summer-like night as the juniors and their dads danced the night away. The junior class chose the theme of "Growing with Love" for the annual Father Daughter Dance.

McAuley's traditional band, Continental Rhythm, played '86 hits such as "Venus" and the old favorites such as "Shout."

At the end of the evening, Cathy Miller and her dad were crowned queen and king. "Being queen made this Father Daughter Dance a very special memory," remarked Cathy Miller.

Daddy's Girl

Seniors gathered together on October 24 to celebrate their last Father Daughter Dance. The theme, "The Twinkle in Daddy's Eye," was chosen by the senior class.

Traditionally Continental Rhythm performed a wide variety of songs from today's hits to yesterday's oldies. Songs included "Venus" to the "Chicken Dance." For the biggest change of pace, fathers and their daughters "rowed their boats" on the floor as the song was played. Michelle Blamer recalled, "It was one of the biggest hits at the dance."

Selected as Queen and King were Brigid Horne and her father. Brigid commented, "Being crowned queen made the dance more special. I'll never forget it."

Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Heile, senior class moderators, guided the evening's success.

Dancing In The Dark

Gathering together on November 1, Sophomores and Juniors attended the annual date dance. The Sophomores, who planned the dance, chose "Dancing in the Dark" as their theme. Upon entering the cafeteria, the couples were surrounded by orange and black helium filled balloons. The centerpieces consisted of a white candle with silver sparkles.

The D.J., "Maddog", played a variety of music which the couples danced to both slow and fast. Alicia Robinson replied, "The D.J. was good because you could request the music."

Sophomore class moderators, Miss Clark and Mrs. Budde, supervised the planning of the dance. Brigitte Foley put many hours into the preparation of the dance, and at the end she replied, "It was all worth it."

Adding a little excitement to the evening, Amy Terrell received a Balloons and Tunes bouquet and a rousing birthday song from her friends for her birthday.

Be True To Your School

"McAuley, how do you feel? We feel good. Oh, we feel so good. Uh!" This familiar chant echoed through the auditorium November 14 as the raffle was kicked off. Students filed in with sailor hats, pennants, pep phones and royal blue T-shirts as each was "true to her school."

In order to attain the $50,000 school goal, students united their efforts. On Monday, December 1 freshmen sold baked goods during the lunch mods followed by sophomores who offered bagels and cream cheese. On Wednesday, students munched on Trotta's pizza sold by juniors while seniors concocted a salad bar. By Friday, December 5, McAuleyans exceeded their goal by reaching $51,909.

Because of their effort and hard work, "Be true to your school" accurately described McAuleyans during the 1986-87 raffle.

Rave Reviews For "Our Town"

"Try and remember the days when you were first in love; when you were like a person sleepwalking and you didn't quite see the street you were on. You were just a bit crazy. Will you remember that please?"

McAuley students demonstrated this feeling of love as they transformed into the simple characters of Our Town. Their talents and enthusiasm captivated the attention of the audience as the three-act drama was presented.

Portraying two ordinary families, the Webbs and the Gibbs, the play focused on their children and their love for each other.

Playwright, Thornton Wilder of Our Town, stressed the ordinary and routine patterns of everyday life. The stage crew executed this theme through simple scenery and few props.

Thinking back on her role as Rebecca Gibbs, Julie Meyer stated, "I had to depend on my abilities and talents to convey the theme to the audience. I couldn't fall back on the props to create the mood." The play conveyed the idea of small town USA, making Our Town a great success.

All Good Gifts

On Wednesday, November 26, McAuley students and faculty celebrated Thanksgiving liturgy. During Father Jim Willig's homily, he spoke about how no one should be an "untouchable" in life at McAuley as well as life outside of school. He used the analogy of untouchable lepers in Jesus' day and the victims of AIDS today.

After the homily, Father Jim initiated twelve Seniors as communion distributors. Michelle Yee commented, "Being a Eucharistic minister means a lot to me, because after participating in the congregation for three years, it's exciting to actually distribute the body and blood of Christ." Ending the celebration was a slide show of all the blessings for which everyone is thankful.

Encircled In Friendship

Noise filled McAuley's halls as the juniors awaited their rings. On December 10, 1986, the class of 1988 would finally receive their formal recognition as upperclassmen. One junior, Amy Rohling, stated, "I could hardly wait for the beginning of the ceremony to be over because I was so anxious to get my ring."

The special theme to demonstrate the class's unity was "Encircled in Friendship." Gina Enneking played her guitar and sang "You've Got A Friend" for the near-filled auditorium. Other juniors demonstrated their musical abilities by singing and playing their instruments to enhance the atmosphere.

During the offertory procession, juniors presented symbols of their previous years of unity. Following the gifts, anxious juniors finally received their rings. A reception of punch and cookies followed the ceremony.

Mistletoe Magic

With the Christmas spirit in the air, McAuley juniors and seniors attended the annual Christmas Ball on Friday December 19. The decorations set the mood for "mistletoe magic." This included tables wrapped as gifts and garland with red ribbons on the balcony.

Music by Marcello Esteves kept the dancers spinning from 9-12:30 a.m. They danced to a variety of top forty hits.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the 1986-87 Snow Queen, senior Jill Binzer. She exclaimed, "This is so great; I can't believe it!" Other members of the snow court included juniors Kelli Johnson, Julie Martin and Susan Weibel, and seniors Christy Barry, Michelle Farrell, Kathy Hubert, Tina Pfeifer and Jenny Rahe.

A Musical Sleigh Ride

"Let's go for a sleigh ride, a wonderful sleigh ride" sounded throughout McAuley's auditorium December 13th and 14th as the orchestra and the choral groups presented the annual Christmas Concert.

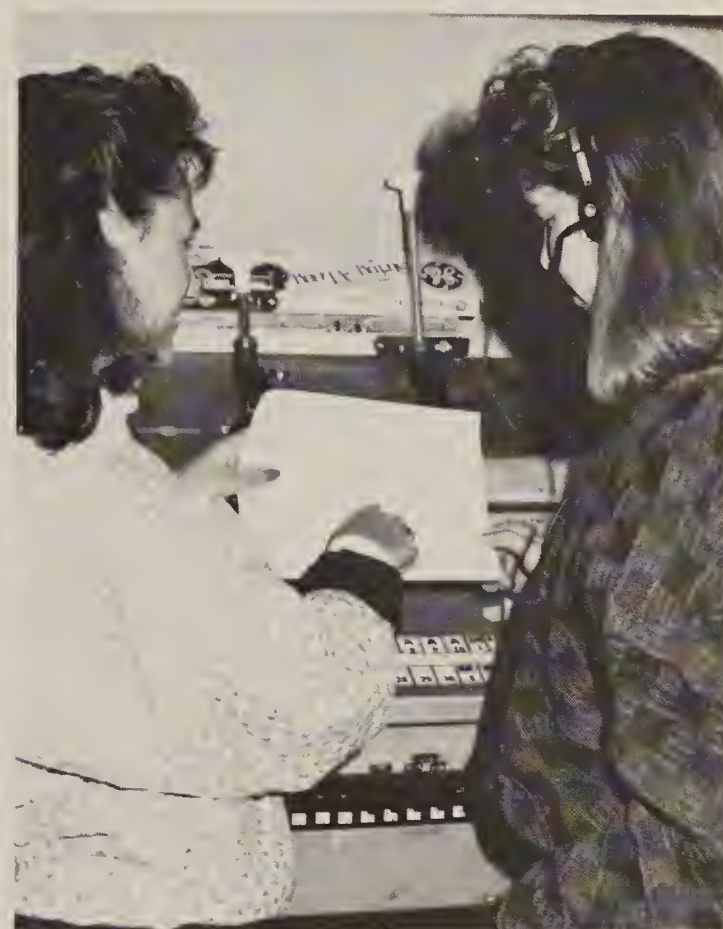

Many new features were added to the Christmas Concert this year. Senior Chorus, usually appearing in formals, appeared in their new concert attire of long black skirts and white blouses. Also, Miss Holly Brown, in her first year as choral director at McAuley, directed Senior Chorus and freshmen Glee Club.

The Concert ended with the song "Sleigh Ride" and a revision of several traditional songs.

Catholic Schools Touch The Future

SUNDAY: Catholic schools were invited to attend the annual mass at the cathedral. McAuley sent representatives to participate in the eucharistic celebration.

MONDAY: Competition between the classes took place as the penny wars started. Donating pennies and perhaps a few silver coins, the students raised $750.00 by the end of the week. This money went towards a gift for the entire student body. The faculty dinner was also held this night where McAuley's orchestra and choral groups performed for the teachers and guests.

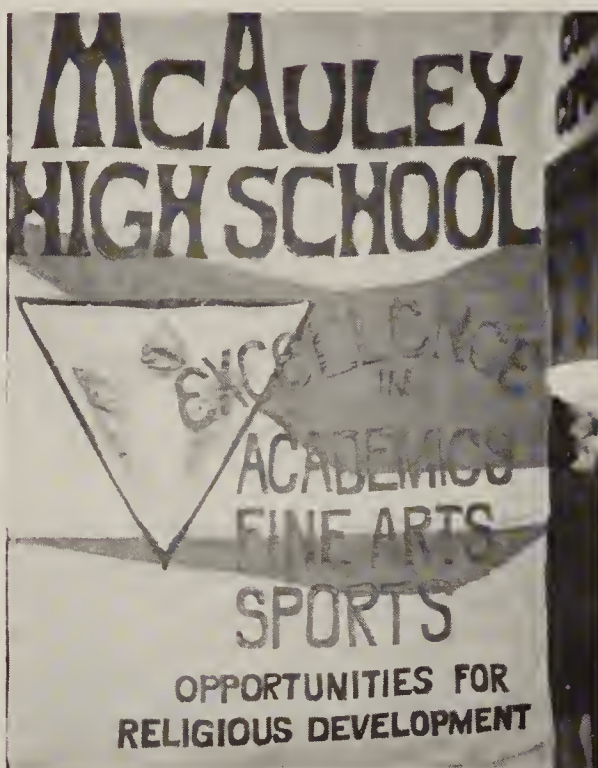

TUESDAY: Arriving at McAuley at 6:00 A.M., members of student council prepared a breakfast for the teachers. They were honored this morning for their devotion to McAuley. Spirit excelled throughout the day as students participated in "Sprout Day" by wearing pony tails all over their heads.

WEDNESDAY: Daisy Day proved a success as many students sent daises to their friends with a cheerful note attached.

THURSDAY: A salad bar was provided during the lunch mods at a minimum cost. Thursday evening, McAuley choral groups and orchestra participated in a community performance at Nothgate Mall. Shoppers and passerbys enjoyed such songs as "Times of Your Life," "Guadeamus Hodie," and "Pink Panther."

FRIDAY: To end Catholic Schools Week, McAuley, Mercy, Seton, Elder and St. Xavier united in a student exchange as approximately 350-400 students participated. Students were chosen to represent the school clubs. During the lunch mods, student council furnished the student body with free, hot popcorn.

Because of the planning of Miss Vissing and Student Council, the Catholic Schools Week activities were a success.

Daddy's Good Luck Charm

Freshmen prepared for their first Father Daughter Dance on the superstitious night of Friday the 13th in March. However, this night didn't stop freshmen and their fathers from having an enjoyable evening.

Many freshmen and their dads started their evening with dinner. After eating, they were off to the dance. Continental Rhythm played a variety of songs including "Old Time Rock and Roll" and "Shout." They danced to the "Limbo" as well as the "Hokey Pokey."

Freshmen conveyed their theme through colored candle center pieces with corresponding rainbows and shamrocks. Class moderators, Miss Linn and Mrs. Piller, along with class presidents, Julie York and Donna Stadler, put much effort into creating an entertaining evening.

To sum up her evening, Tricia Carrigan stated, "That was the first time I went dancing with my dad, and I ended up having a great time."

Cinderella

McAuley's Drama Department performed Rogers and Hammerstein's Cinderella on April 3, 4 and 5 under the direction of Mrs. Carol Mumma. The musical production starred senior, Shere Moeves, as the mistreated step-daughter. Acting as her cruel stepmother was senior, Christy Mulloy.

The play was set in the home of the mistreated Cinderella. She sang, "In My Own Little Corner", as her stepsisters departed for the Royal Ball and left her behind to the housework. Not until later, did her dreams come true.

The cooperation and teamwork of the cast and crew made Cinderella come alive on stage. McAuley's orchestra and choral members also helped make the night a huge success. The colorful sets and elaborate costumes created the mood for the fairytale.

Senior Michelle Yee, a dancer in the musical, stated, "The experience of working with the cast and crew of Cinderella was one of the highlights of my senior year."

On The Edge Of A Dream

Limosines and cadillacs approached Moonlight Pavilion chauffeuring juniors and seniors to the long awaited prom. The chilly evening, along with the outdoor setting, provided a romantic atmosphere for the special night of April 25, 1987.

Juniors selected "On the Edge of a Dream" as the theme for the prom. Adding a touch of spring, candles surrounded by silk flowers were placed as centerpieces. Silk pink and white bows decorated the pillars.

The highlight of the night occurred when Lisa Polking was crowned 1987 Prom Queen by Junior Co-Presidents Beth Hils and Karen Dierkers. Other members of Prom Court included Michelle Hornsberger, Diana Jacobs, Tina Pfeifer, Gail Wehman, and Kim Young. Each member of the court received a necklace engraved with "Prom Court '87", and each also received a rose.

The evening's success resulted from the hard work of Junior Prom committee and moderators, Mrs. Hekler and Sister Judy. As junior Sally Efke reflected, "It was a nice change because of the flowers and outdoor setting, rather than the traditional Convention Center.

Heroines In Their Own Right

Students and their parents, together with the faculty and administration of McAuley, celebrated the Eighth Annual Awards Banquet on May 5 at The Farm. Students were honored for academic achievement or were honored for service performed for the school.

Mrs. Carol Trauth Dressman, Director of Development at Mother of Mercy High School, addressed the audience. She emphasized that the honors given resulted from the hard work of students, parents, and teachers. Calling the honored students, heroines, Mrs. Dressman illustrated signs of their accomplishments. She spoke of the heroism involved in the daily, sometimes tedious, tasks: studying, writing, reading, tutoring and serving others. The heroine who succeeds in these small tasks is likely to succeed in the more challenging tasks of life.

Mrs. Dressman further discussed that much work goes unrewarded. The true heroine works for personal fulfillment and in service for others. She also refuses to be impeded by obstacles in life.

As a final note, Mrs. Dressman alluded to Don Quixote as one having high aspirations. Students should also dare "To Dream the Impossible Dream."

Freshmen Bid Seniors Good-Bye

Seniors and their little sisters gathered for one last time at the picnic held May 22. The day began with a skit performed by the freshmen class. The skit showed a freshman portrayed as a senior reflecting on her high school years at McAuley. At the end of the skit, she waved good-bye as the song "Don't You Forget About Me" played.

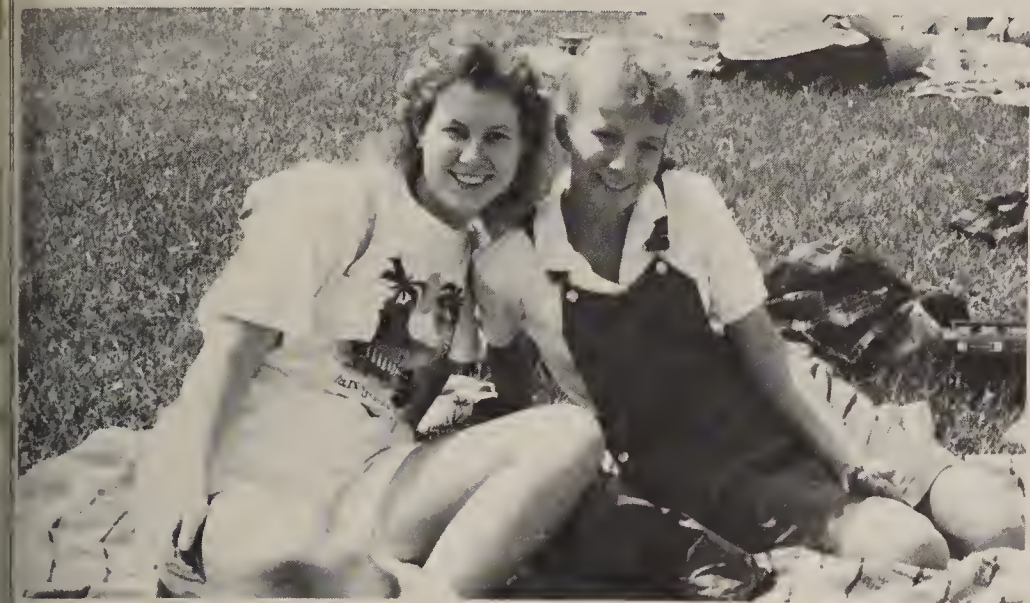

At the picnic, freshmen supplied the pizza, soda and all the other munchies. Radios blarred as games were played, shootings with water guns went on, and beach balls were tossed.

Many freshmen sent their big sisters on to Florida in style. They gave the seniors beach towels, beach balls, sun glasses, and suntan oil.

In My Mother's Eyes

Mothers and daughters gathered for the annual May mass on the morning of the 8th. The celebration was a tribute to all the mothers of the senior class.

During the liturgy, the readings provided an insight into seniors' duties towards God, parents, and friends. Mr. D'Amico next delivered a meaningful homily that touched the heart of the mother daughter relationship. It was an expression of the appreciation seniors have for their mothers.

The theme was illustrated through the meditation song, "My Mother's Eyes." Seniors then gave their mothers a rose to show their thankfulness.

Following the mass, junior mothers served breakfast to seniors and their mothers. The mass and breakfast provided a time with mom that will always be remembered.

A Salute To America

On May 16 and 17, the McAuley Fine Arts Department presented A Salute to America. The concert combined music, art, singing, and dancing into unique and interesting pieces.

As a special tribute to her senior class, Shere Moeves wrote and composed a beautiful song, "Never Let Go." The seniors from Orchestra and Senior Chorus performed this piece.

Throughout the concert, Senior Chorus, Glee Club, Vocal Ensemble, and Orchestra entertained the audience. As a special treat, the Mini-Jazz Ensemble performed two upbeat songs. Two very talented flutists, as well as good friends, Kathy Lammert and Nancy Schuehler, performed a lively duet.

As a salute to America, the concert opened with "The Star-Spangled Banner" performed by the orchestra and combined choruses. Appropriately, the "Battle Hymn of the Republic", performed by all the talented McAuleyans, concluded the concert with a bang.

Seniors Learn Message Of Love

The Baccalaureate Mass took on a different atmosphere this year as seniors and their parents gathered at St. James Church in White Oak on Friday, May 29.

Father Jim celebrated the Mass. In his homily, he spoke of Jesus' greatest message: to love one another. He illustrated this idea in a short anecdote about a woman learning the secret to a happy, fulfilling life. She realized that no matter how confident or self assured others may appear, everyone needs love. Father Jim then paralleled this message to McAuley graduates whose task it is to continue loving others.

Later in the Mass, as a special memoriam to Mr. D'Amico, each senior placed a yellow carnation in baskets on the altar.

Following the liturgy, a slide show and reception were held in the Undercroft.

Grads Recall McAuley Years

For the first time in McAuley's history, commencement exercises were held at the Convention Center. The spacious hall accommodated the many friends and family members of the graduates.

Selected by a panel of teachers and students, Julie Molloy addressed the audience. She recounted the four years of high school as both happy and difficult times. As freshmen, many students received the infamous "pink slip from the lady in blue." Sophomore year led many into the throes of laziness. With Junior year came Mr. D'Amico who jarred students from their complacency. He brought spirit and vitality into the halls of McAuley. As seniors, the students took a leadership role exemplified in their winning the raffle.

Following Julie's speech, Dr. Lee Etta Powell, superintendent of Cincinnati Public Schools, spoke to the graduates. She emphasized their need to dare to dream, to set realistic goals, to make choices, and to value time. Dr. Powell concluded by stating that the graduates must ultimately strive to live up to their potential.

The graduates ended the ceremony by singing Shere Moeves', "Never Let Go."

On Their Toes

The 1986 tennis team displayed their talent and devotion on the court with a record of 13 wins and 2 losses. Mrs. Wagner was ecstatic about the season. She commented, "Hard work and dedication proved to be the key to success. Congratulations team of 1986!" The girls helped each other through the year. Team captain Leeanna Huesman said, "The team was very supportive of one another. After a tough match, win or lose, a team hug really topped it off."

Highlights of the season included: In singles play, Judy Lin seeded 4th, advanced to regionals; Cindy Carlson reached quarter finals. In doubles play, Catherine Hyle and partner Leeanna Huesman, seeded 3rd, also reached the quarter finals.

Honors were awarded to many of the Mohawks. Judy Lin received first team all stars, and Leeanna Huesman achieved honorable mention. Partners Catherine Hyle and Tracey Niemeyer received 2nd team all stars. Holly Cramer and Beth Hodapp attained honorable mention in doubles. Judy Lin and Catherine Hyle along with partner Leeanna Huesman, were also awarded all city honorable mention.

Moving Ahead

The thrills of victory and the agonies of defeat were familiar to the varsity soccer players this past season.

Although McAuley finished the overall season with a 11-6-5 record, they experienced many close and exciting games. "The most exciting game," exclaimed Tracie Overbeck, "was the Mercy vs. McAuley tournament game because each player had team spirit and the desire to defeat Mercy. Through that game, we as a team, gained more than a victory; we gained confidence and pride."

Coaches Mike Jacobs and Fred Caliguri (a.k.a. Dapper) were pleased with the past season and look forward to the next.

Six Straight

For the sixth consecutive year, the cross country team won first place in their league. Along with their hard work and dedication, they produced a winning record. This included placing first in Districts and in the GGCL.

With the hard working team headed by coach Snodgrass and his assistant and wife, Kathy, the girls displayed team effort. Many practices were held at Winton Woods with captains, Jenny Lohr and Sandy Cassinelli, guiding the team. The members shared a special spirit at both practices and meets.

"I felt we were the closest team yet this year. We worked well together. Our efforts at getting along and being close really showed at our meets," explained captains Jenny Lohr and Sandy Cassinelli.

The Mohawks' overall record was 128 and 11.

Play Deep

The gym echoed with the performance of the pep band. The stage was set, McAuley versus Mercy: a game of pride between long-lasting rivals. As the match began, the Mohawks accepted their defeat of the first game and came back strong in the second game. After consistent serving and forceful spikes, McAuley overpowered Mercy and moved into the third and final game. With the fans' fervor and the Mohawks' skill and dedication, McAuley finally defeated their rivals.

By defeating Mercy, McAuley's Varsity Volleyball team achieved one of their many goals. They also captured first place in the Fall Classic Tournament by defeating some of the toughest teams in Indiana. Attaining a league record of 5 and 2, McAuley played well. Team captains Janet Jaeger and Sue Ludmann stated enthusiastically, "We feel we had a great season with an overall record of 19 and 4. Everyone was supportive of each other and gave 110 percent in practices and in the games."

Throughout the season, the team jammed to the Outfield tape, "Play Deep," while their coach's directions echoed through their minds. Miss Broderick added, "It was a very enjoyable season. The competition was tough but the team worked well together and were able to win a lot of volleyball games and have fun in the process."

A Change Of Seasons

The traditional sports banquet took on a change this year. It was divided into two more personal occasions. The winter and spring teams met late in the school year while the fall teams met on November 13.

Miss Doyle and Miss Lehmann, the moderators of the fall banquet, led the evening with enthusiasm and pride. The GAA officers, Sue Ludmann, Julie Holt, and Diana Jacobs, decorated the cafeteria with Mohawk sport pictures.

Mr. D'Amico began the night with an opening prayer and a big congratulations. The soccer teams then told about their seasons. Next, the volleyball and cross country teams acknowledged their successes. Lastly, Mrs. Wagner's tennis team was honored for their accomplishments. The GAA officers then produced a slide show for the 1986 season.

Overall, the athletes enjoyed the more personal atmosphere of the smaller banquet. The players felt a sense of pride and unity as the evening came to a close.

Mohawks Dunk Old Records

The Varsity Mohawks had a remarkable 1986-87 season. They finished their season as District Runner-Up and compiled a 20-4 record. This season made history for McAuley. It was the best the varsity team had ever finished. In addition to their record wins, the Mohawks, upset the Seton Saints. Seton arrived at McAuley as the number one team in the state, but left with their first and only crushing defeat of the season. Throughout the game, the Mohawks maintained the lead. The intense defense was the key to a McAuley 40-32 victory. They held Seton's highest scorer, Janet Hanenburg, a 6'1" center who averaged 14 points a game, to only two points.

The team received much recognition. Third year coach Mark Kling was selected as GGCL coach of the year and received the same honor by the Southwest District Coaches Association. Becky Brackett, Sue Ludmann (team captain) and Kerri Schrand (team captain) were recognized as GGCL All Stars and competed in the city Senior All Star Game.

A Stroke To The Top

The McAuley swim team stroked their way to the top this year with an overall record of 6 and 4. Karen Kinsella, the new assistant coach, conditioned the swimmers while Mr. Barney provided enthusiasm and support. Commenting on the season, team member Jennifer Schwierling stated, "We started off with a great attitude and both our attitudes and performances improved during the season."

Many new records surfaced during the 1986 season. Sophomore Rachel Ward qualified for the State competition in the 50 yard free style. She set a new school record and placed 13th in the State meet. Diver Jenny Reuter finished third in the GGCL and also qualified to compete up state. McAuley also fared extremely well in the regular season. One of their victories included an upset over Oakhills.

Karen Kinsella summed up her first year with the Mohawks. "All in all we had a successful season. Each individual significantly contributed to ensure overall team success, not only in points, but in giving 110 percent of herself. I am extremely proud of each one of them."

A Grand Slam Season

The Varsity softball team brought a long list of victories home to McAuley this season.

With the refined skills of the entire team and the powerful arm of Wendy Paffe, who received first team state and MVP, the Mohawks excelled to win the GGCL title.

The team was guided by Coach Velma Lehmann who received Coach of the Year for her outstanding accomplishments.

During the season, the team played competitively. On April 25, after 13 innings of play, the Mohawks defeated Mercy to win the Amelia Tournament. With this assurance, they went on to an outstanding win in District Finals. McAuley then traveled to the Regionals with a record of 23-5, where they accepted a 1 to 0 defeat.

The team made their mark by displaying unique sportsmanship and exceptional talent.

J.V. Bats 1000

This year's J.V. Softball Team consisted of one junior, seven sophomores, and eight freshmen. Each contributed 110% in every practice and game.

Captain Pam Holiday replied, "The team unity and enthusiasm is what gave us our winning season."

With her leadership, along with co-captain Rachel Heyl and coach Peggy Gaffer, the team finished with an overall record of 14-2. They also finished second in the GGCL, losing only to Mt. Notre Dame.

The time and dedication displayed by each team member were the two primary reasons that the 1987 season was a great success.

Sprinting Into Action

Sprinting through the power lines and many arduous practices were just a couple of things instilled in McAuley's track team this year. The new coaches, Mark Wolriven and Mike "Roosh" Rusher, made the members condition until they surpassed all other schools. Due to this hard work, the team finished on top for the seventh consecutive year and they also turned in one more Best of the West victory.

The team consisted of four senior captains, Sue Doll, Lisa Polking, Becky Brackett and Tracie Overbeck, who established unity throughout the group.

Many new records were set by the Track and Field Events Team including Becky Brackett who broke the school record by jumping 5'4". Overall the team made great strides.

Alive With Energy

The spring sports teams celebrated their winning seasons by gathering in McAuley's cafeteria on Sunday afternoon, May 31.

The afternoon began with a remembrance to Mr. D'Amico which was followed by a buffet style lunch. McAuley was then awarded the All Sports Trophy, given to the school with the highest standings for the year.

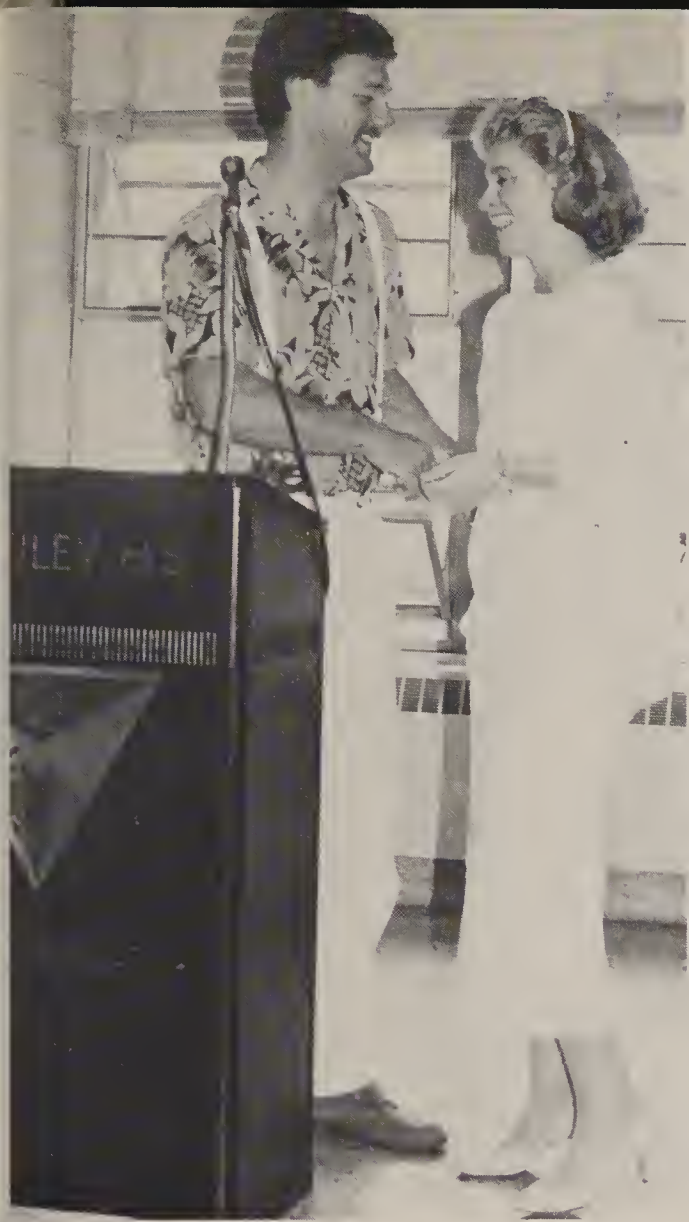

During the banquet, each of the spring sport teams, swimming, track, and softball, was honored. Athletes then presented a special dedication to Athletic Director, Maryann Broderick, who left McAuley for one year.

The traditional slide show ended the afternoon, bringing back memories to every athlete.

Drug Awareness

In Hamilton County alone there are exactly 75,000 alcoholics, enough to fill Riverfront Stadium. This is just one of the staggering statistics McAuley students learned at the first Substance Abuse Awareness Day held on November 10, 1986.

This day was a success due to the combined efforts of a dedicated faculty, members of the Council on Alcoholism, recovering alcoholics, the Care Unit, and an enthusiastic student body.

One of the highlights of the day included the presentation of the Late Great Me. The play was produced, directed and performed by McAuley students. It dramatized the problems of a teenage girl who drank because of peer pressure. "It was a realistic presentation," remarked one student.

Double Trouble

Ever think you're seeing double? Well, at McAuley it happens everyday. Four sets of identical twins can easily be spotted. The senior class contains two sets of identical twins: Yvonne and Yvette Ellinor and Nora and Marie Eisele. The junior class has only one set of identical twins: Maureen and Sheila Gemperle. And in the freshmen class are Lori and Lisa Lahmann.

Yvonne and Yvette may look alike, but they value their separateness. They have different attitudes, varied hairstyles, and even different friends. Like some twins, they don't often like to dress alike. However sometimes they exchange places for work. For the Ellinors, being twins has its ups and downs.

Marie and Nora Eisele enjoy being twins. They serve as each other's best friend. One time, they exchanged places, and it worked. They often dress alike. In addition, both work at Gold Star Chili in Northgate Mall.

Juniors Maureen and Sheila consider themselves "inseparable." They are each other's best friend. However, they don't often dress alike unless they are in a "twin mood." Maureen works at Wendy's while Sheila works for the competition, McDonalds.

Finally, both sisters and best friends, Lisa and Lori are as identical in looks as one can get. Although they don't dress alike, except when at school, they love to exchange places all the time, (especially in home-room!) These fun-loving twins, the Lahmanns, said that they wouldn't trade their situation for the world.

Ski Club

McAuley's new 1987 ski club began their season on January 9th. Students gathered at Perfect North Slopes in Lawrenceburg, Indiana from 5:30 p.m. until closing on Fridays. Once members received formal instructions according to their abilities, they skied the slopes with friends.

Near the end of the season, four freshmen from McAuley participated in Perfect North Slopes' Nastar downhill slalom race. Shelly Martini placed first, and Nikki Maguire was awarded second. Jody Lambert and Trishia Carrigan finished in third and fourth places.

The club's moderator, Mr. Neihaus, commented on the 1987 season. "Although the Cincinnati area had a serious lack of snow during the winter of '86-'87, the ski club members enjoyed five weeks of learning and fun on the slopes."

Secret Friend

The famous locker room: it knows more about McAuley's sport teams than McAuley itself. Many secrets remain between the cracks and crevices of the room. If only it could talk, one wonders what stories it would tell. Maybe it would reveal the secret strategies of a coach or an athlete's Friday night. The locker room memorized 5,000 versions of a pep talk and 1,000 versions of a coach's disappointment.

Many lasting friendships developed and matured in the room. It introduced the freshmen teams to one another and ensured trust between the J.V. and the Varsity teams. Within its walls, the players shared all their problems. Whether the Mohawks won or lost, the locker room felt the emotions of the players. The walls felt each kick of anger and the floor held the tears shed by the players. Coaches described their players' triumphs and losses, their accomplishments and failures. The famous locker room: it became an athlete's secret friend.

Hang-Outs

"Where are you going after the game?" yelled a junior to a senior. "Chili Company sounds great," the senior shouted over the crowd.

Whether crowded in the restroom or sitting at the booths, juniors and seniors socialize at the area restaurant. Their conversation is usually interrupted for a brief meal of home fries with cheese.

Sophomores and freshmen find LaRosa's in White Oak Shopping Center their favorite hangout. Talking in the parking lot and seeing new faces take precedence over eating. At both Chili Company and LaRosa's, eating is secondary to meeting.

SADD

One quarter of a million Americans have lost their lives in alcohol-related auto crashes over the past decade, an average of 25,000 traffic fatalities each year. Without question, drunk driving ranks today as one of the nation's most serious health and safety issues. Among no group is the problem more severe than teenagers and young adults.

SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) first began in the 1986-1987 school year. Mrs. Haemmerle acted as moderator with forty student members participating.

SADD members promoted their philosophy through advertising. They placed posters throughout the school. Date dance tickets were also printed with the message, "Don't drink and drive."

SADD members felt successful in their attempts to reach the student body. As SADD member, Monica Vilaboy commented, "We're an organization that is oriented toward saving people's lives. I've always wanted to be involved in something meaningful and SADD helped me to achieve that goal."

Fine Arts

Music playing, voices singing, face painting, and button making were just a few of the events that the Fine Arts Department presented during the week of February 16th.

Throughout the lunch mods, students played and sung song pieces, prepared with the help of Miss Wampler and Miss Brown.

The Art students also showed their colors. They created and sold printed stationery and personalized buttons. Daring students also had their faces decorated. The week ended on a sweet note with baked goods by the art department. Mrs. Kramig and Mrs. Wessels agreed that Fine Arts Week was a great success.

Teen Challenge

All McAuleyans have heard about the harmful effects of drugs and alcohol. However, when a 6'8", 260 pound football player says, "Drugs and alcohol kill people," it has a stronger impact.

The Teen Challenge on Thursday, March 5 in McAuley's gym helped students become aware of the effects of chemical abuse. Robert Jackson, the master of the ceremonies, led the Bengals in the sporting games. Later, Jim Breech, M.L. Harris and Bruce Kzerski spoke of their experiences with alcohol and drug misuse.

Although McAuley was defeated in the sporting events, they competed well. Father Jim led the Mohawks in Basketball with help from Kim Frey and Julie Martin. The Mohawks also showed their athletic prowess during volleyball, tug-of-war, sit ups, and the relay race.

The Bengals ended the program by challenging juniors and seniors to combat drugs and alcohol by believing in themselves.

Awareness Day

Imagine yourself in a small group setting in a warm, comfortable room, with everyone encircled on the floor. One of your friends begins telling how the two of you fought the night before; she then apologizes, and gives you a big hug. This is just one of the experiences during the peer group discussions on the junior Awareness Day at St. Francis Center, March 18. Peers addressed topics such as friendship, relationship, self esteem and acceptance.

Juniors also had the opportunity to listen to McAuley Alumnae and St. Xavier students discuss their commitment to Christ.

While juniors spent the day away from school, freshmen and sophomores shared discussions and liturgy at McAuley. Providing the impetus for discussion were the Fountain Square Fools. The group reacted stories from the Bible with a contemporary twist. In "Gone Fishin'," Paul, in a incident at sea, finally saw the results of his boastful attitude. Other parables illustrated the materialism and shallow values of society. The "Fools" provided relevant messages for an attentive teen audience.

Mohawk On Ice

Instead of coming home from school and watching the Guiding Light like most teenagers, Sophomore Theresa Weber travels to Northland Skating Rink in Evendale. She practices 3 to 4 hours a day during the school year and in the summer a total of seven hours a day. A friend introduced Theresa to the skating rink and that's how she became interested in the sport.

Theresa possesses high goals and expectations. She hopes to make it to the Nationals. She participated in the opening and closing ceremonies in the World Figure Skating Competition in Cincinnati.

Besides the hard work skating involves, it is also costly. Theresa pays $1,000 to $1,500 annually for skating equipment and fees. Expenses range from $6.00 for 15 minutes of lessons to $200 for a pair of skates.

With time and dedication, Theresa Weber might skate her way to a gold medal.

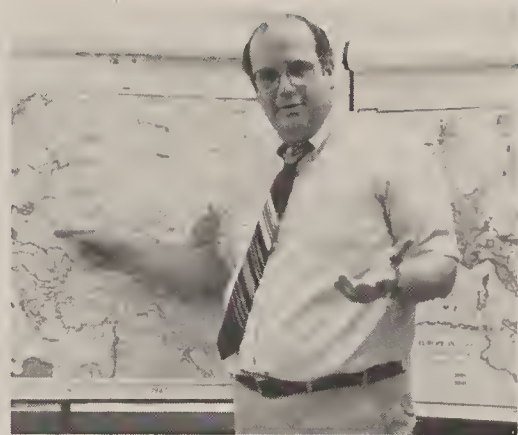

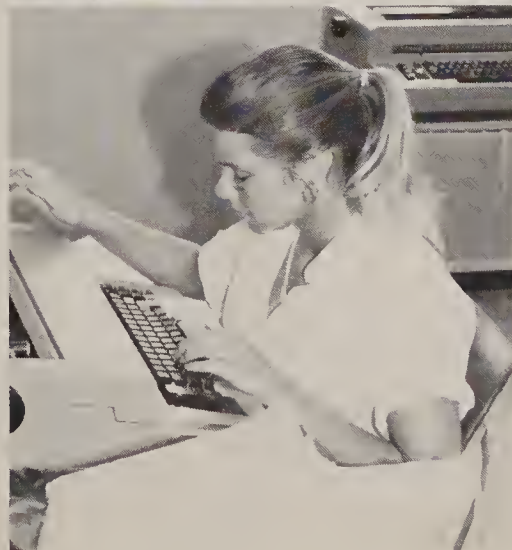

OEA

Many students in McAuley's business program are members of OEA, Office Education Association. This club provides student recognition for involvement in a variety of programs designed to develop personal, leadership and office skills.

OEA meets in three hour blocks. They work on such skills as accounting, standard English, typing and record keeping. They also work on funding the remodeling of the office practice room. These funds are collected by the sale of sweatshirts and the salad bar lunches.

According to Mrs. Berhanu, the participation in the club is strong. Since members have long class times, they hold their meetings during school hours.

With the skills and experience acquired in OEA, graduates are well prepared for the "real world."

Youth In City Government

Just imagine meeting five different people from nearly every high school in Cincinnati in just four days. Well, five juniors, Beth Ellensohn, Shannon Gers, Laura Jansen, Karen Urso, and Dianne Vorherr experienced this opportunity.

These five students, along with their senior advisor, Julie Meyer, went downtown to participate in Youth in City Government. The students met with top city officials in addition to 160 other juniors from all over Cincinnati. During the program, students were placed in small groups with the goal of solving city problems.

As a climax to the program, Girl and Boy Mayor of Cincinnati were elected by the students. Although the Girl Mayor was not a McAuleyan, Dianne Vorherr and Karen Urso were elected as City Council members.

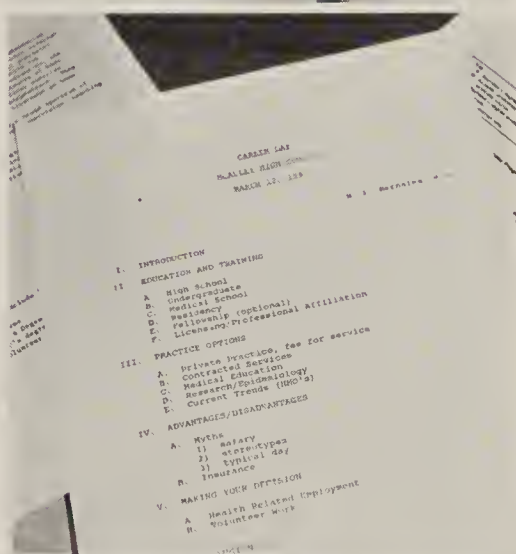

Career Day

What would you like to major in? What kind of a college do you want to attend? How many years of education are required for a particular position?

McAuleyans received answers to these and many other questions on Thursday, March 12. Professionals from various fields such as medicine, law, and education gave overviews to their areas. They provided insight acquired from their years of experience.

For example, Mrs. Patricia Baas put into perspective the principles of being a lawyer. She informed her student audience that being a lawyer does not always guarantee a steady and generous pay check. She explained all of the work, dedication, and time needed to excel as a lawyer.

Because of career day, many students felt better informed on possible future careers.

The Birds And The Beasts

During science week at McAuley, Kevin Hils, an expert in ornithology from the Cincinnati Zoo, came to talk to biology students.

With him, he brought many interesting "friends" from the zoo. First, he displayed several two and half inch Madagascar Hissing cockroaches. When Mr. Hils touched their sides, they hissed as a warning signal.

In addition to the cockroaches, Mr. Hils wore a boa constrictor around his neck. The snake, appropriately named "Rocky Balboa", sent chills up many students' spines.

Next, a beautiful bird, the Cockatoo, with creamy white feathers, stood proudly on Mr. Hils' wrist. When this bird wanted to show off, he'd lift his feathers to expose the gorgeous peach tones underneath his plumage. Another interesting bird from the tropics, the toucan, demonstrated his talents by catching grapes in mid-air.

All the students enjoyed this experience. They gained knowledge and an appreciation for animals.

Mock Trial

Tension was high and nerves were on edge inside the dimly lit, stuffy court room. Beads of sweat rolled down the faces of both the lawyers and the witnesses as they waited for a final verdict.

This was the scene of the final round of the 1987 Mock Trial competition between McAuley and Mercy. To advance to the finals, McAuley's Team B defeated four other teams from local high schools. Members included seniors Chris Paulin, Carol Ellensohn, Lori Dizon, Colleen Fahey, Amy Gilbert, and juniors Nikki Hurst and Jenny Verkamp.

McAuley's Team A, consisting of seniors Tracy Hallgath, Tracie Overbeck, Brigid Horne, Sally Laib, and juniors Kathy McNeill, Beth Ellensohn, Maria Milazzo, and Jenny Bode also competed in earlier rounds. Both teams were coached by lawyers Margie Weingartner and Trish Sutton, and faculty moderator, Mrs. Wagner.

Despite McAuley's loss to Mercy in the city finals, Team B advanced to the state competition in Columbus and placed fifth overall.

Did you ever wonder about the lady in the cold lunch line who always seemed to have a smile to brighten your day? Well Mrs. Murphy amiably served McAuley for fourteen years. She started as a cafeteria volunteer. She enjoyed herself and the atmosphere so much that she decided to work full time.

At the end of the 1986-87 school year, Mrs. Murphy retired. She reflected on her years of service, "I'll miss the faces of McAuley but I am ready to move on."

Mrs. Murphy saw many changes occur at McAuley. One aspect though, that she said never changed was watching ingenuous freshmen enter McAuley and then mature into upperclassmen.

To occupy her free time, Mrs. Murphy planned to develop film, play bingo and travel.

Senior Spirit

Soars

The week of May 18 kept seniors spirited as the traditional Senior Week took place. Events were planned with only seniors in mind. These events included a class meeting, a prayer service, an Olympic day, and a picnic.

The highlight of Senior Week took place on Wednesday. The senior class was offered an afternoon out of school to have some "fun in the sun!" Senior homeroom 112, which was the top homeroom in the raffle, received a pizza party as their raffle prize. Instead of the pizza party, they proposed to extend the prize to the entire class and take an afternoon off for an olympic day.

Events that took place were a balloon toss, a three legged race, an obstacle course, and a volleyball game.

The events were planned by Mrs. Snodgrass and Michelle Yee. It was a great change from the traditional pizza party as the entire senior class was invited to unite together, with spirits soaring!

Clean School

Clean School, Inc. sponsored its 4th annual school competition in Cincinnati. The program encourages students to improve their school and city environment through Beautification, Education, and Recycling. It provides schools with the opportunity to win award money, which is used for student scholarships.

McAuley has participated for three consecutive years. Ms. Vissing, along with Michelle Blamer, compiled McAuley's presentation. It featured three plays, T-shirt designs, landscapes, puzzles, and posters.

The highlight of these activities was the drama presentation. Drama I classes prepared and performed three plays dealing with litter prevention. The plays were then videotaped for viewing by the judges.

Some people come into our lives
and quickly go.

Some stay
for awhile
and leave footprints
in our hearts and we are never ever the same.
